MEMORANDUM FOR INFORMATION

TO: THE DIRECTOR

1. In his testimony requesting $1,500,000 to run the Public Affairs Division of the State Department this coming fiscal year, Roger Tubby, then the Assistant Secretary of State for Public Affairs, said to the House Subcommittee on Appropriations Chairman, John J. Rooney:

"I certainly think we ought to work in close cooperation in my area, I might say, with the USIA and CIA, and with the White House and Defense. These are fields in the public affairs area where we have the closest kind of common interest and we have had very good relations. We have had no single instance of complaint called to my attention from any of these other agencies, nor do I have a feeling of frustration at all with them. It has been very good."
